Subject: FBI propaganda targets wrong people

Media Matters reports:

The FBI in a recent document listed “conspiracy theory-driven domestic extremists” associated with the QAnon conspiracy theory as a “domestic terror threat.”

This brings to mind the bad old days of the Bush Era, just after 9-11, when a police state was constructed that took direct aim at American Patriots who had done nothing wrong, and who posed no threat. During this time police all over the US were falsely indoctrinated that those who had doubts about the story of 911 were supposedly terrorists. This is quite ridiculous especially now that less than ½ the US population believes the official story of 9-11. They called “constitutionalists” terrorists, while the police and military had sworn an oath to protect and defend that constitution. This flies in the face of common sense. Ron Paul followers were called terrorists.

While we are not in the Bush era now, the deep state has not yet been completely rooted out of the US Federal government. They have also infiltrated State Governments, including Colorado.

A real, justifiable, target for the FBI would be something like ANTIFA.

As I have pointed out to you, the US has been targeted for gun confiscation, and this effort comes from international powers. They did, systematically, go after the guns in country after country. A large part of their success in other countries was by staging fake, or real, SCHOOL SHOOTINGS. They are planning the takeover of the entire world, and the US is the last remaining stronghold of a massive number of armed citizens.

The Walmart shooting in El Paso Texas is the latest. Already, this soon, it’s looking like a set-up. As of Sunday night, 33 were reported dead.

Humans can be programmed to do whatever they are told. They can even be programmed to kill themselves. They can program the person shooting to kill their self before capture. This is documented as a government program known as MK-ULTRA.

Shepard Ambellas, of intellihub.com reports, with videos:

Why are mainstream sources and officials reporting only one shooter when eyewitnesses claim that they saw 3 to 4 armed men dressed in all black enter the store and start shooting?
