Subject: Virginia and State Gun Laws

FACT: Culpepper County Sheriff says he will deputise thousands if Gun Laws passed. Can one restrict, with new State “Laws.” the firearms of deputies?

FACT: Tazewell County calling Militia (armed civilians) from around the state to join in their county against implementing gun laws.

FACT: Governor of Virginia threatens to call the National Guard to enforce gun laws.

FACT: There are 90 counties in Virginia. 75 have banned together, with Sheriffs, to stop new gun law implementation.

SPECULATION: Militia (armed civilians) will be travelling from around the United States to Virginia if gun laws are passed. They went to Nevada to protect Cliven Bundy in 2014. There was a standoff with the Bureau of Land Management. Feds backed down.

SPECULATION: The National Guard of VA will refuse any unconstitutional (Marbury vs Madison “null and void” so called “laws”) orders from the State Government.

SPECULATION: US Military will refuse to be involved in the VA dispute.

SPECULATION: As in New Orleans, during Hurricane Katrina, MJTF – Multi-Jurisdictional task forces from around the US may be employed against gun owners in VA. In the New Orleans area, police refused to report to work.

The move of Tazewell county is brilliant, both in terms of tactics in anticipation of possible future conflict, and as a legal maneuver. The State Constitution allows for calling a Militia from around the State. Militia cannot have new restrictions on types of firearms permitted.

Let us hope, and pray, that these people who are attempting to “infringe” on the second amendment rights of the people of VA back down. I prefer peace.

And pray that Colorado is spared this mess because of how the Citizens, and Sheriffs, are now standing up to this in Virginia. And, pray for the impeachment of the VA Governor.
